FRENCH ARMY SENSATION

PAINLEVE'S ACTION

HIGH OFFICERS INVOLVED IN RHINELAND AFFAIR

CONSIDERING DECISIONS

Paris, Yesterday.
A sensation has been caused by the announcement of the summons to Paris of General Gobeau and General Partoureaux from Mayence and Treves, respectively, and of Colonel Marminia from Durren.
It is understood that M. Painleve, the Minister for War, questioned them regarding orders to hold a parade of troops and of the sanctioning of officers to form a dance organisation and a route march during bitter cold in the Rhineland.
The Cabinet afterwards met to consider M. Painleve's decisions.—Reuter.

Reported Decision

Paris, Yesterday.
"Le Journal" understands that General Gobeau has been reprimanded, General Partoureaux relieved of his command while Col. Marminia will be transferred to another unit.—Reuter.

Mortality in Rhineland

A telegram from Paris, dated March 16, stated:—The heavy influenza mortality amongst French troops in the Rhineland—there being 175 deaths in February alone—was critically debated in the Chamber of Deputies all night long on a Socialist motion which was tantamount to a vote of censure on the Government.

M. Painleve, whilst pointing out that the epidemic had decimated civilians and soldiers alike, acknowledged that there had been individual cases of neglect, like the arrangement of route marches during the great frost.

M. Painleve declared that neither the Government nor the War Ministry was responsible for this. He promised that punishment would be meted out, the food improved, the medical staff increased, and the relatives of the deceased compensated.

The Socialist motion was rejected by 308 votes to 282.1

MISS JEAN HO TUNG

MARRIED TO-DAY AT LOCAL REGISTRY

RECEPTION AT "IDLEWILD"

Miss Jean Ho Tung, sixth daughter of Sir Robert Ho Tung and Lady Ho Tung, was married this afternoon at the Registry of Marriages in the Supreme Court to Mr. W. M. Gittins, son of Mr. H. Gittins of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co., Ltd., and Mrs. Gittins.
The bridegroom is a Dialectic School boy and graduated B.Sc. at the University, on the staff of which he served for some time. He is a fine cricketer, having played both for the "Varsity" and for Kowloon C. C. and still plays in spite of an accident some years ago; he is also a keen Scoutmaster.

Robes de Style

The reception was held later at Sir Robert's residence in Seymour-road, "Idlewild," the scene of several other magnificent weddings in the past.
The bride wore a dress of ivory coloured cut velvet, and her train was lined with blush pink gossamer. She carried a bouquet of armillaries.

Miss C. M. Fisher, the bridesmaid, and Miss P. G. Le, the flower-girl, wore robes of style, old-fashioned, of flowered taffeta and velvet, and their bouquets were of sweet peas. Master Wilbur Lo, the page-boy, was smartly attired in a period costume.

Honeymoon in Japan

Sir Robert gave his daughter away and Mr. E. Zimmer acted as best man.

Although no invitations had been issued, a large number of friends of both families attended the reception, among them being the members of the Board of the Tung Wah Hospital, who went up in a body. The chairman is Mr. M. K. Lo, who is Sir Robert's first son-in-law. The Board assembled to pay their respects to Sir Robert and in honour of Mr. Lo being the Chairman.

H.E. the Governor is to be represented at the reception.
The honeymoon, it is learned, is being spent in Japan. The bride's going-away dress will be of powder-blue broche velvet.

CHILD KILLED

FALL FROM POLICE STATION VERANDAH

SUB-INSPECTOR'S LOSS

The sympathy of their many friends will go to Police Sub-Inspector Rogers, and Mrs. Rogers on the tragic death of their little daughter, Nellie, who was only three years of age. She was fatally injured, through falling from the verandah of Sheungshui Police Station, where her father is officer in charge.

The child was rendered unconscious and immediately rushed off to the Kowloon Hospital. There a desperate attempt was made to save her life by means of an operation, but she died soon afterward.
The funeral will take place this afternoon.

"I TREMBLED"

ELEMENT OF FEAR IN A ROBBERY

WHAT MUST BE PROVED

"I don't think, gentlemen, you will have any doubt whatsoever that the robbers put them in bodily fear," said Mr. Somers Fitzroy (Assistant Attorney-General) to a jury at the Criminal Sessions this morning, before his Honour the Puisne Judge (Mr. Justice Wood). He was referring to three women of No. 239, Portland-street, 2nd floor, Yaumati, one of whom subsequently said in the witness box: "I was very frightened. I trembled."

She was describing events in her flat on February 4 (a few days before China New Year) when she and other women tenants were gagged with potatoes and strung up with towels and an old necktie. Money, jewellery and clothing were stolen. Two of the women were struck on the hand with the points of knives or daggers.

Seven Days After

Mr. Fitzroy referred specifically to the element of fear because it is necessary to prove such—or use of violence—to sustain a charge of "robbery by two or more" (or what the layman calls armed robbery).

Seven days after the affair two of the women were walking along a street in Yaumati when they met a man whom they alleged to have been one of the gang and who, it is further alleged, hid himself and then bolted. Following his arrest other persons were detained. The first man and another, by name of Ho, Chok-lam and Leung Ching, stood in the dock to-day and pleaded "not guilty."

Det. Inspector C. P. Fallon is in charge of the case, which is proceeding.

ALLEGED MURDER

CHINESE SHOP EMPLOYEE ARRESTED

CHARGED AND REMANDED

Following a robbery at the Ho Ping Kee rice shop, No. 61, First-street, West Point, just before 1 a.m., on Friday last, Ho Ping, the master of the shop, was found dead on his bed by Li Chat, his fooki.
The unfortunate master, who had been gagged by the robbers, had been suffocated by a piece of wood being thrust too far into his mouth.

According to information given to the Police by Li Chat he himself was bound and gagged by two unnamed men, who afterward ransacked the shop and rifled the safe, which was opened with a key taken from the dead man, Ho Ping.

Li Chat also communicated certain suspicions to the Police, which led to the arrest of another fooki of the shop who usually slept in the cockloft in the shop. This man was alleged to have gone out 20 minutes before the robbery took place and was not seen again by Li Chat.

The arrested man was produced before Mr. E. W. Hamilton at the Central Magistracy this morning to face the capital charge, and was formally remanded in Police custody for a week.

Mr. Baldwin, the Prime Minister, was present at the christening in Westminster Abbey of the son of Mr. J. C. C. Davidson, M.P., chairman of the Conservative Party organisation.

MR. LOOKER AND CHINA'S INDEMNITY

A SUGGESTION

M. P. ASKS AS TO BRITAIN'S TOTAL EXPENDITURE IN CHINA

WHITE PAPER ON THE SUBJECT

London, Yesterday.

In the House of Commons, replying to Mr. H. W. Looker (formerly of Hong Kong) with regard to the carrying out of the proposals relating to the China Indemnity Fund, Mr. G. Lockyer Lampson, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, said it was impossible to find time during the present session to pass the amending Act as originally contemplated. Sir Austen Chamberlain had therefore been communicating with His Majesty's Minister in Peking in an endeavour to find means to expedite action so as to release some portion of the funds soon for the purposes of the mutual benefit of Great Britain and China such as was recommended by Lord Buxton's Advisory Committee.

Mr. Looker suggested that before any definite decision be reached with regard to the steps to be taken as to the Fund, a White Paper should be issued so that the Commons would have an opportunity of considering the proposals. Mr. Looker Lampson said that he would consider the suggestion.

Col. Crookshank suggested that the White Paper should state the total expenditure in which Britain had been involved in China since the passage of this Act.
To this there was no reply.—Reuter.

ANXIETY IN SPAIN

THE DICTATOR PROTESTS ANGRILY

"INCORRECT REPORTS"

Madrid, Yesterday.

Writing in the "El Noticiero" General Primo de Rivera angrily protests against the "absurd" incorrect reports regarding the recent disturbances in Madrid published abroad particularly the report that the regiments of the Royal Guard had declared themselves Republican.

The Dictator declares that as the result of such false news many foreign tourists are abandoning their plans to visit Spain.

De Rivera intimates that he has taken steps, with a view to civil actions and damages in the countries in which these lies were published.

For the first time since the establishment of the Dictatorship in Spain, apprehension is being felt as regards the stability of the regime.

According to reports reaching Hendaye from Madrid the police are being held in readiness to prevent any further disturbances.

Twenty Professors of Madrid University have announced that they will take no responsibility for the consequences of any measures the Government take in connection with the student riots.

One Professor has been arrested, and several others will probably be punished. The Cabinet has refused to authorise meetings of Professors, including a proposed meeting of the Madrid University Council.

Drastic Measures

Madrid, Yesterday.
The students' outbreaks have brought swift retribution. Primo de Rivera has dismissed the Chancellor and Chapter of the Madrid University which will be closed for eighteen months.

The University is attended by most of the future civil servants, and aspirants to the professions, and its closing is likely to cause a greater reaction than the disbandment of the artillery and cadet academy.

Provincial universities have also been penalised.—Reuter.

METAL MARKET

FEVERISH ACTIVITY IN LONDON

BIG RISE IN PRICES

London, Yesterday.

Simultaneously there has been feverish activity on the London Metal Exchange. It is stated that half the stocks of copper in Britain changed hands at prices which are the highest for nine years. "Electrolytics" have jumped $3 to $39 while "Standard" realised $35 13/9.—Reuter.

REVENGE ON TRIBES

CHINESE OF YUNNAN UP IN ARMS

CURIOUS EXPEDITION

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Yunnan, March 6.

A short time ago, a big landowner, Li (or Yu) Kyn-jen, was sent by the Military Governor here to recruit about 2,000 men in the I-Bien district, around Chaoting, with which recruits he was to attack Weining, to the south-east of Chaoting and just over the Kweichow border. He got the recruits and surrounded Weining city for two days when the Kweichow troops came along and gave them a good thrashing.

The Governor here is a tribal man, as also is the recruiting amongst the tribal people, but what has been the result?

The Chinese have now turned on these tribal people and have burnt and plundered their villages to teach them not to fight against Chinese any more. What the object could have been for the expedition does not appear, but it was carried out, with results as stated.

Military Administration
Orders have been received here from Nanking—that the provincial Army is to be reduced to two divisions and this has caused a great stir, for some will have to go. But which will have to go and which will stay is the burning question, leading to some fighting amongst the soldiers in the city, several of whom were killed.

Those who have been fighting belong to Chang Fong-tsun and Tso Siao-long, two leaders of divisions.

What the outcome will be no one can say; but there may be more trouble.

General Liu Han has resigned and has been sent for to Nanking. Liu Han was Chang Fong-tsun's right-hand man, in charge in the capital.

FINE TO CLOUDY

To-day's weather report issued by the Royal Observatory stated:—

The depression has passed into the sea of Japan.

An anticyclone has formed over China.

Forecast: Light westerly or variable winds, freshening slightly from N.E. later; fine to cloudy.

PIASTRE NOTES

FIND ON A BOAT IN A BAY

Two Chinese, a boat steerman and a travelling trader, were this morning charged before Major C. Wilson, Q.B.E., at the Central Magistracy, with the unlawful possession of forged piastre notes to the value of 1,400 piastres. They were arrested on the first accused's craft at Tai-hau-wan Bay, below the Dairy Farm, property at Pokfulam.

A remand was given for 48 hours for the Police to make further inquiries.

NEARLY DROWNED

MAN'S STRUGGLE FOR LIFE ON SAMPA

A Chinese youth named Sui Kun (14) was yesterday admitted to the Kowloon Hospital suffering from cut wounds on his chest. He was a member of the crew of a sampans and was alleged to have come by his injuries through being assaulted with a chopper by another fooki, who has since absconded.

It was reported that in the course of the struggle with his assailant, the youth fell overboard and would undoubtedly have been drowned but for being rescued by some people on board another sampans in the vicinity.

He was transferred to the s.s. "Hellas" where he received first aid before being removed to hospital.

A wheat futures market, controlled by the Corn Trade Association will open in London this month.

TO-DAY'S DOLLAR

BRITISH OFFICERS & CHINA'S NAVY

THE EMBARGO

QUESTIONS RAISED IN THE COMMONS

OFFICIAL REPLIES

London, Yesterday.

In the House of Commons, Sir Walter de Frece asked if Sir Austen Chamberlain would suggest to the other Powers concerned the desirability of raising the embargo on the importation of arms to China on the ground that the embargo on both was derogatory to the new National Government and restricted employment in England.

Sir A. Chamberlain replied that the question of terminating the China Arms Embargo Agreement of 1919—was at present being considered.

Replying to Sir W. de Frece, Mr. W. C. Bridgeman said, that no formal request on behalf of the Chinese Government for the loan of British naval officers to help in the reconstruction of the Chinese Navy had been submitted, but informal inquiries had been received and that the Government had replied that as long as the China Arms Embargo Agreement was enforced the Government could not give such assistance but would be pleased to give it as soon as the restrictions were removed.—Reuter.

R.A.F. MEN KILLED

CAPETOWN-CAIRO FLIGHT TRAGEDY

FURTHER DETAILS

Capetown, Yesterday.
One airman was killed and one seriously injured here, in a crash near Gwelo to-day.

The machine was a Fairey Napier R.A.F. plane, one of four engaged in the regular annual return flight from the Cape to Cairo.

The machines left Cairo on Feb. 12, arrived at Capetown on March 7, and left there on March 11.

Later.
Flying Officer Y. W. Burnett, who was injured in the crash, has since died. The other victim, Sergeant Turner, was killed instantly.—Reuter.

Another Account

London, Yesterday.
One of four Fairey Napier Royal Air Force aeroplanes, on its return flight to Cairo from Capetown, crashed to-day after leaving Gwelo, Southern Rhodesia. Sergeant Turner was killed on the spot, while Flying Officer Burnett died from his injuries soon after his admission to hospital.

Four planes under the command of Squadron Leader Cox left Cairo on February 12 and reached Capetown last Thursday week, thus completing the first half of their 9,000 miles' flight in scheduled time. They were being accompanied back to Nairobi and Khartoum by four machines of the South African Air Force.—British Wireless Service.

AUSTRALIAN FLIERS

HOPE TO BEAT HINKLER'S RECORD

AT MARSEILLES

London, Yesterday.
The Australian fliers, Flt.-Lieut. Moir and Flying Officer Owen, left Folkestone this morning in an all-metal Vickers-Armstrong-Siddeley machine. They hope to reach Australia in twelve days, thus beating Bert Hinkler's record of 15½ days.

Marseilles, Yesterday.
Moir and Owen have arrived here, non-stop, from England in 10½ hours.—Reuter.

Attack on the Record

London, Yesterday.
Flight Lieut. Moir and Flying Officer Owen, two Australian airmen who are attempting to fly to Australia in an all-metal Vickers-Armstrong-Siddeley biplane, left Lynne Aerodrome this morning. Their big machine, which is driven by a single 400 h.p. Armstrong Siddeley engine, has been specially equipped for long non-stop flights of as much as 2,000 miles, and the airmen intend to make the 13,000 miles flight to Australia in long hops. They hope to reach Rome to-day and Australia in twelve days, and thus break the record of 15½ days made by Squadron Leader Hinkler on his 30 h.p. Cirrus Avian light plane.—British Wireless Service.

BRITISH COLONIES

MR. ORMSBY GORE TALKS ABOUT KENYA

DEAD SEA CONCESSIONS

London, Yesterday.

Mr. W. G. Ormsby Gore (Under-Secretary for the Colonies) said to-day that the Department of Civil Research was about to conduct a special inquiry into the matter of the plague of locusts now visiting certain parts of Kenya Colony.

Mr. Ormsby Gore announced that the Colonial Office had received a reply from the Trans-Jordanian Government respecting the quest of the Dead Sea concessions. Both they and the Palestinian Government had now authorised conclusion of draft agreement and the Colonial Office hoped to be in a position to make a definite offer to prospective concessionaires at an early date.

Offered Provisionally

If it were accepted and other matters were satisfactorily arranged, the concession would be duly sanctioned.

Mr. Ormsby Gore added that the concession had been offered provisionally to Major Tulloch and Mr. Novomecky in equal shares. He had no reason to doubt that these two gentlemen could raise the necessary capital.

He was asked whether the final agreement now being considered by the Palestine Government contained provisions to ensure permanent British control and avoidance of monopoly of control by any group or organisation interested in the production on sale of potash.

Not Practicable

Mr. Ormsby Gore replied that in view of the terms of the Mandate it was not thought practicable to add provisions for British control. Any concession that was granted, however, would provide that the operating company should not without the previous written consent of the Palestinian and Trans-Jordanian Government, enter into any arrangement for the restriction of output or for raising or keeping up prices in such manner as to restrict input.—British Wireless Service.

RECKLESS DRIVING

DELINQUENTS PAY THE PENALTY

OTHER OFFENCES

Before Major C. Willson, O.B.E., at the Central Magistracy this morning, the Chinese driver of a public motor car, who had a previous conviction, was fined $20 for dangerous driving on February 21.
Traffic Sergeant McInnes stated that accused drove the car on the right hand side of the road when passing Naval Terrace, near the Naval Yard. Besides being on the wrong side of the road he drove very fast, witness having to travel 35 miles per hour in following him.

For dangerous driving by speeding on the new road on the Wanchai reclamation on February 22, the driver of a public motor car was fine $10.

Mr. W. Kent, A.S.P., summoned the driver of another public motor car for driving on the wrong side of the Queen Victoria Statue in Statue Square at 6.45 p.m., on February 24. Mr. Kent said that accused proceeded east to west on the sea side of the statue. Witness' car was on the west side of the statue going toward Connaught-road at the time, and if his own driver had not jammed the brakes on hard there would have been a collision.

Traffic Sub-Inspector Nicols summoned the same driver for failing to produce his driver's licence, and failing to carry his brass badge on the evening in question.

The officer said that he knew that Mr. Kent wanted the defendant, who had refused to stop. Accordingly he went after him on his cycle and "picked" him up on the Pedder-street stand. When he was questioned there defendant failed to produce either his driver's licence or brass badge.

The Magistrate imposed fines of $10 on the first two counts and $5 on the third.

The drivers of two public motor cars were fined $5 each for causing obstruction by touting for passengers on Wongnischong-road on March 2.

For parking his car on the private car section of the Charter-road motor car stand, the driver of public motor car No. 478 was fined $5.

WORSE THINGS THAN WAR

SHANTUNG REVOLT

INACTION OF THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT

WHAT IS BEHIND IT?

Shanghai, To-day.

The "Shanghai Times," in a leader criticising the inaction of the National Government, concerning the situation in Shantung, remarks that the Government is apparently more engrossed with the choice of seats in the National Congress than with the safety and lives of the Shantung populace, stating:—"Unquestionably the National Government could effectively suppress Chang Tsung-chang in the shortest possible time if unanimity and determination to liquidate the situation existed at Nanking." Unfortunately, all sorts of rumours are spread of jealousies regarding troop movements in Shantung.

"We abhor war," but there are worse things, and Eastern Shantung is experiencing some of them. If troops cannot be moved from Nanking to aid General Liu Chen-nien, they could certainly be transported from Homan or Peking. One is forced to conclude that there is some other hindrance to the suppression of the revolt.—Reuter.

Pei Chung-hsi Resigns

Shanghai, To-day.
It is announced that Tsai Yuanpei, President of the Central Yuan, is suffering from a cold in Shanghai and is unable to return to Nanking to attend the Congress.

General Pei Chung-hsi is expected to arrive in Shanghai by a Japanese steamer to-morrow. The "Tachung News Agency" publishes a report from Peking that Pei Chung-hsi has resigned his post as Director of the Disbandment Office in the Fourth Army.—Reuter.

PEOPLE REFUSE TO PAY FREEBOOTERS

STRICT MARTIAL LAW

Chefoo, Yesterday.

There are no developments in the local situation.

General Liu Chen-nien (Nationalist) is still holding a position to the west and maintaining the strictest martial law. Chang Tsung-chang has made several attempts to persuade him to join him, but up to the present has not been successful.

From foreign sources in Tientsin reports have been received that the situation there is daily becoming worse, particularly among the villages west and south-west of Tientsin, where the people are refusing to pay further levies to the military and are joining the "Red Spears" and similar bands and have raised the standard of revolt against the soldiery.

Terrible Reprisals

This has resulted in most terrible reprisals on the part of the soldiers who are robbing, murdering and raping all over the country.

Refugees continue to pour into Tientsin and steamers from there are insufficient to meet the demand. Those unable to leave their villages sleep on the hill-sides and return to their homes in the daytime, retreating again to the hills on an alarm of attack by soldiers or bandits.

Chang Tsung-chang's headquarters continues to be the rendezvous of former officials endeavouring to procure position in the event of his success.—Reuter.

U.S. FLOODS

MARTIAL LAW PROCLAIMED IN STRICKEN ZONES

20,000 HOMELESS

Atlanta, Yesterday.

Martial law has been proclaimed in the Elba and Geneva zones, in order to check looting and disorders due to the recent floods in Georgia.

Owing to interruption to telegraphs and telephones information is scanty, but it is believed that the position is very grave. There are 20,000 people homeless, and though camps have improved matters, the situation is unsatisfactory, owing to the lack of rations and medicines.

The authorities are urgently requesting typhoid serum.

The situation on the Mississippi is being closely observed, but is not yet ominous.—Reuter's American Service.

RACIAL WAR?

CHINESE MURDER IN PHILIPPINES

NUMEROUS DEPORTATIONS

Manila, March 12.

The local newspapers to-day devote considerable space to the murder of Chua Suy, Chinese merchant stabbed to death yesterday by a group of five of his countrymen who escaped in a motor car.

The police are not certain, the newspapers assert, whether the murder was the result of alleged sales of Japanese made goods by Chua Suy, in violation of the anti-Japanese boycott which Chinese organisations here have declared, or was caused by a feud growing out of a "tong war."

The police are quoted as stating there will be a large-scale "clean-up" of undesirable Chinese as a result of the murder and have given to the Acting Governor-General, Mr. Eugene Gilmore, a list of 80 Chinese whom they recommend should be deported.

The newspapers editorially condemn efforts to enforce an anti-Japanese boycott in the Philippines, asserting the Government must, in fact as well as in principle, oppose the staging of any kind of anti-Japanese troubles.

"The Philippine Islands are no place for the staging of factional warfare," says the Manila "Bulletin," a conservative American owned daily, warning Chinese residents they cannot carry the enmity of their countrymen at home to this country. "There must be no reign of terror against law-abiding Chinese here," the newspaper continues, "and the Chinese themselves should seek to obtain deportation of their countrymen who disgrace their political cause by a resort to murder."—United Press.

GENERAL SUTTON

FLYING ARGONAUT SEEKS NEW EL DORADO.

BACKING OF $2,000,000

New York City, March 10.

Captain Charles Sutton, former adviser to the late Chang Tso-lin of Mukden, is acting as chief of a group of Canadian flying argonauts who will start tomorrow in search of a new El Dorado in north-west Canada.

The expedition consists of seven aeroplanes and a group of scientific and practical miners. Their destination, it was intimated, is Tawane Bay, 1,200 miles north of Winnipeg, where they will seek extensive copper and gold claims.

Sutton's own plane is at present at Fairchild Airport, Long Island. He will fly it over a route leading through Montreal, Ottawa and Winnipeg, gathering other planes as he proceeds.

Backing of $2,000,000 has been given the expedition, according to Sutton.—United Press.

[The "Captain Charles Sutton" mentioned above was known in Mukden as "General Frank Sutton," the generalship having been awarded him by Chang Tso-lin in recognition of his services in munitions manufacture.]

Sutton was the chief factor in bringing efficiency into the large arsenal at Mukden. Subsequently he was pushed out of favour, due in part to an untimely presentation of large financial claims during the time that the Kuo Sung-lin revolt was endangering Chang's position in Mukden, but he took charge of construction of a smaller arsenal. Trench mortars were Sutton's hobby and he improved them in many respects. "At one time he was in the British Army."

Mr. Arthur Chapman, assistant surveyor to Norfolk County Council, was awarded £1,000 damages at Norfolk Assizes against the Norwich Taxis Company, Ltd., for injuries caused by one of their vehicles.

Miss Gwyneth Herford, a Reading University student, has been presented with the R.S.P.C.A. silver medal for diving into the River Kennet and rescuing a cat whose struggles had been watched by men and boys.

Several pictures were experimented upon, and in each case subsequent changes were clearly visible in the Shadowgraph. For instance, one revealed a man with four legs and other ludicrous additions. Another made clear the original face of a Tudor portrait on which had been painted the mask-like features of an Eighteenth Century type.

But most interesting of all was a landscape which had been guaranteed by an eminent expert as a genuine signed picture by a famous Dutch artist of the Seventeenth Century. Before it was tested scientifically the opinions of those present were against its authenticity and this belief was justified by the experiments.

The ultra-violet rays first undoubtedly proved that the white paint of a little waterfall and the white of the signature were of wholly different composition: one appeared as a grey streak, the other as a black streak. Afterwards the X-ray Shadowgraph finally established the modularity of the painting. These scientific methods, if not always infallible, are bound to be of invaluable service when the authenticity of an Old Master is in doubt, that is, if they are employed by an operator who is also a painter of Mr. Kennedy-North's exacting experience.

N.Y.K. PLANS

HUGE BUILDING PROGRAMME
NOW IN PROGRESS

IMPROVED ARRANGEMENTS

Ever on the onward march to keep abreast with the exigencies of the ocean transportation trade, the N.Y.K. definitely decided upon a large shipbuilding programme some time ago which is now under steady progress towards completion, with the anticipated expenditure of approximately Yen 80,000,000, for building nine high-powered and splendidly equipped motor vessels aggregating about 117,500 gross tons, to be apportioned to the Lines as follows:—

3 motor vessels 17,000 tons each for Oriental-California Line.
2 motor vessels 12,000 tons each for Europe Line.
3 motor vessels 11,000 tons each for Seattle Line.

1 motor vessel 9,500 tons for South America West Coast Line.

On the Orient-California Line, a fortnightly service is maintained at present with five steamships, S.S. "Taiyo Maru," "Tenyo Maru," "Shinyo Maru," "Korea Maru" and "Siberia Maru." Replacing the last two, the new "Big Three" to go on this Line are the "Asama Maru," "Tatsuta Maru" and "Chichibu Maru," each having passenger accommodation for 210 first class, 90 second class and 500 steerage. The first two Liners are equipped with four sets of Sulzer Diesel engine, and their cabin passenger accommodation will be the last word in luxurious and comfortable appointments for ocean travel. Undoubtedly they will be welcome additions to the palatial "greyhounds" that cross the Pacific. Of these the "Asama Maru" was launched at Nagasaki Mitsubishi Dockyard in October last and is now receiving, from expert hands her complement of fittings and equipments. She is expected to make her initial voyage in September next; while the other two big sister-ships, "Chichibu Maru" and "Tatsuta Maru," will be completed in March and June, 1930, respectively, when they will also take the run; so that an immense improvement will be introduced into the service by the employment altogether of six crack passenger liners of high speed maintaining a regular fortnightly service, viz:—

M.S. "Asama Maru"—17,000 tons gross.
M.S. "Chichibu Maru"—17,000 tons gross.
M.S. "Tatsuta Maru"—17,000 tons gross.

S.S. "Taiyo Maru"—14,500 tons gross.
S.S. "Tenyo Maru"—13,500 tons gross.
S.S. "Shinyo Maru"—13,000 tons gross.

While only the "Siberia Maru" and "Korea Maru" have heretofore called at Los Angeles occasionally, it is planned from this year to send all vessels of this Line to call at that port, so as to participate in the transportation of through passengers and freight destined to Los Angeles from Hong Kong, Straits Settlements, Java, Indo-China and etc., and vice versa. This innovation will not only prove of great convenience to shippers and passengers, but should go far towards solidifying the position of N.Y.K. Line in the promotion of their future business.

ed to introduce larger and finer passenger vessels to keep up the service. In this connection, three new vessels now being built for this Line will have passenger accommodation for 90 first class and 800 steerage, and they each will be equipped with two sets of Burmeister and Wain Diesel engine. According to their programme, they will be ready in December, 1929, July and September, 1930, respectively, so that the present steamers on this Line, viz. "Iyo Maru," "Mishima Maru," "Shidzuoka Maru" and "Yokohama Maru," will be withdrawn gradually as they are being replaced by these new motor vessels and two steamers transferred from the Oriental-California Line thus a regular fortnightly service will be carried on by the following five splendid liners:—

The call at Manila has been suspended for a long time, but on completion of the new vessels, it may possibly be resumed, in view of the importance of direct touch with that port, by some or all of the liners.

It had hitherto been the practice from the time of operation by the T.K.K. to berth the S.S. "Tenyo Maru" and "Shinyo Maru" at Wossung when calling at Shanghai, but after thorough investigation by the experienced Captains of the N.Y.K., it was found safe and practicable since last autumn for these steamers to proceed up river to the port of Shanghai, so that the Company have now decided to make it a permanent fixture for these two vessels to berth alongside N.Y.K. wharf at Shanghai, same as for the other steamers, which arrangement will no doubt be of a great convenience to both passengers and shippers using those liners.

The Seattle Line.

On the Seattle Line, a great development is now proceeding apace. In the first place, it will again be extended to include Hong Kong as the initial and terminal port from this month, after having left it out for nearly three years. Then again, it has been decided

Three motor vessels—1,000 tons gross each.

S.S. "Korea Maru"—11,800 tons gross each.

S.S. "Siberia Maru"—11,800 tons gross each.

In view of the new features introduced as above related, it is natural to expect greater activity in the near future in the N.Y.K. transportation business across the Pacific, following upon operation of the completed programme on their two Pacific Lines.

The Europe Line

The Europe Line, which has won well-deserved popularity for many years among travellers who use the old Suez Canal route, consists, at present, of eleven steamers, but according to present plan for further improvement, the three 8,000 tonners on this Line, S.S. "Kitano Maru," "Kamo Maru" and "Atsuta Maru," will be replaced by two new motor vessels now under construction, each equipped with two sets of Sulzer Diesel engine and having beautiful passenger appointments with all known comforts for 130 first class and 70 second class passengers, as well as accommodation for 70 third class. When these two new vessels are put in service, they will bring to fulfilment the Company's long-cherished desire of maintaining a regular fortnightly service with a fleet of ten splendid liners of approximately uniform class and speed, viz:—

Two motor vessels—11,000 tons gross each.

S.S. "Fushimi Maru"—11,000 tons gross.

S.S. "Suwa Maru"—11,000 tons gross.

S.S. "Hakone Maru"—10,500 tons gross.

S.S. "Hakusan Maru"—10,500 tons gross.

S.S. "Haruna Maru"—10,500 tons gross.

S.S. "Rakozaki Maru"—10,500 tons gross.

S.S. "Katori Maru"—10,000 tons gross.

S.S. "Kashima Maru"—10,000 tons gross.

The desirability of bringing up the Company's Australian service has also not been overlooked. On this Line the monthly service is at present maintained by three steamers, viz. "Aki Maru," "Tango Maru" and "Kaga Maru," but they will be replaced in the near future by the following three fine passenger steamers, withdrawn from their present run on the Europe Line:—

S.S. "Atsuta Maru"—8,000 tons gross.

S.S. "Kitano Maru"—8,000 tons gross.

S.S. "Kamo Maru"—9,000 tons gross.

Excellent Accommodation

Each of them has most excellent passenger accommodation for 90 first class, 25 second class, 10 3rd class and 62 steerage, and the great improvement effected on this service by such large well-equipped and comfortable steamers will no doubt be appreciated by the travelling public.

On the N.Y.K. South America West Coast Line, which is increasing in popularity year by year, the sailings at present are once in about every one and half month maintained by four vessels; but to meet the growing demands of shippers and passengers, it has been decided to start a regular monthly service from next year with five liners, including a new motor vessel which will be equipped with two sets of Sulzer Diesel engine and having very comfortable passenger accommodation for 50 first class, 90 second class and 600 steerage, and which is expected to be berthed in March, 1930. The improved fleet on this Line will then be as follows:—

A new motor vessel—9,500 tons gross.

S.S. "Anyo Maru"—9,500 tons gross.

S.S. "Rakuyo Maru"—9,500 tons gross.

S.S. "Bokuyo Maru"—9,000 tons gross.

S.S. "Ginyo Maru"—9,000 tons gross.

Gross Tonnage 886,000 Tons

On the whole, it may indeed be called an epoch-making enterprise in the Company's history to see the development of such enormous improvements on each of their main Lines, after completion of their large shipbuilding programme as above outlined.

With such addition of tonnage, their fleet will be 102 vessels with a total tonnage of 886,000 tons, and their position in the world's shipping built up since the establishment of the Company in 1885 will be considerably enhanced.

NAVAL MOVEMENTS

The Transport "Somersetshire" is due to arrive here from Singapore at 7 a.m. to-morrow.

H.M.S. "Sterling," "Stormcloud," "Seraph," and "Somme" will arrive here from the North on Wednesday, March 27.

H.M.S. "Bruce" will proceed to Shanghai, arriving there on March 25.

H.M.S. "Kent" flying the flag of the Commander-in-Chief, China, will leave Shanghai on March 27, returning to Hong Kong.

An echo of the trouble on board the British S.S. "Darcia" in January was heard in the Marine Court yesterday when seven Europeans who were formerly members of the ship's crew were charged by the master of the vessel with misbehaviour on January 16. They were alleged to have neglected duty whilst the "Darcia" was in Saigon harbour, to have taken on board intoxicating liquors, and to have been drunk. When the case was called, Mr. D. L. Sturlett, for the master, asked leave to withdraw the charge as the defendants had already left the ship and were therefore no longer within the scope of the summons. His Worship accordingly ordered their discharge. Mr. Leo d'Almada, sen., was for the defence.

The mistress of a sampan was yesterday charged before Mr. T. S. Whyte-Smith and Major C. Wilson, O.E., at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court, with the unlawful possession of a rifle, five detonators, and three rounds of ammunition. The Police did not take a serious view of the case as the rifle could not be fired, and accordingly his Worship imposed a nominal fine of $10. The arms and ammunition were ordered to be confiscated.

CAPTAIN MISSING?

LIGHTSHIP STRUCK BY LINER
IN A FOG

5 SURVIVORS IN CHANNEL

London, Yesterday.
The Gull Lightship was sunk at her moorings off the Goodwin Sands near Deal to-day in collision with the liner "City of York" during one of the worst fogs in the English Channel this year.

The "City of York," which docks
in London to-night, has five men on board who were rescued from the lightship. It is believed that Captain Williams of the lightship and another member of the crew are missing.—British Wireless Service.

GLASGOW DOCKS

MEN TERMINATE AGREEMENT IN FORCE SINCE 1922

There was a further development
recently in the dispute which has arisen
at Glasgow harbour between the dock labourers and their employers, when at a mass meeting of the men it was decided to terminate the agreement under which work has been carried on at the docks since 1922. The meeting was attended by a large number of dock labourers, says the "Journal of Commerce."

The question at issue is that of the excessive working of overtime between the hours of 4 and 8 a.m. each day,
and on Saturday afternoon on vessels loading or discharging at the port.
This matter was fully discussed, and the meeting was practically unanimous in giving 3 months' notice, with a view to overhauling the whole of the night-time conditions and securing the abolition of excessive overtime between the hours of 4 and 8 o'clock in the morning.

From a statement made at the close of the meeting by Mr. Joseph Houghton, secretary, it appears that the men resent the excessive amount of work, which, it is alleged, is carried on at the docks in the early morning hours, and they complain that the spirit and intention of the clauses of the agreement relating to the matter have been made from time to time without effect. In seeking to improve the conditions, it is stated that the dock labourers have the assistance of the Executive Council of the National Union of Transport and General Workers.

It is understood that the next step in the dispute will be taken immediately. Mr. Houghton will ask that a conference be held between representatives of the Dock Labourers' Union and the Glasgow Shipowners' and Dock Labour Employers' Organisation.
Meanwhile the men will observe the terms of the agreement, so that there will be no stoppage of work at the harbour until further negotiations have taken place.

With 119 tons of kerosene on board
his vessel, the master of a cargo boat neglected to proceed to the Dangerous Goods Anchorage, and moored in Shaughnessy Bay instead. The upshot was that he was yesterday charged before the Hon. Comdr. G. F. Hole, R.N. (retired) at the Marine Court,
and was fined $100.

NANKING'S VICTORY

Several factors in the settlement of the Hunan crisis, if considered together, might be viewed as circumstantial evidence that Canton is to pay for Hankow, incurring the displeasure of the National Government at Nanking.
On the other hand, the fact of several events following each other in close sequence may be co-incidental. In using the term
"Canton," we do not refer specifically to the neighbouring city in that it is the capital of Kwang-tung province. Such use is a convenience and helps the disinterested foreigner to grasp affairs which often baffle because they are so complicated. More often than not, "Canton" is meant to indicate that part of South China comprising the two Kwang provinces in which the Kwangsi faction has the dominant voice. This Kwangsi faction, as has been explained before, is also in power in Hankow and also in a small part of North-East China. "Hankow" (or Wu-Han), here again, denotes the two provinces of Hupeh and Hunan, where the Kwangsi-ites are the ruling party.

There was no talk of war during the first few days following the ousting of General Lu Ti-ping, who was head of the administration in Hunan as the nominee of Nanking—"Nanking" meaning the National Government as constituted largely by Marshal Chiang Kai-shek and his supporters. The National Government was content to appoint a commission to inquire into the Hunan affair. And a majority in the commission was given forth to Kwangsi leaders and their strictly political—as distinct from military—friends in Nanking.

Two motives probably prompted the National Government to entrust the duty of "saving face"
to men who are known to be favourable to the culprits. The first was that by doing so they would show broadmindedness and thereby create a favourable impression with neutrals. The second was more subtle in that it was felt that the commission would have to be impartial if only because the majority of members were associated with the offenders. Later came the commandeering of ships, the despatch of troops half way toward Hankow, warlike preparations, and an ominous challenge by Nanking to the Kwangsi faction.

When hostilities appeared imminent, Marshal Li Chai-sum left Canton (on a date he had chosen prior to the trouble) for Nanking.
We cannot help feeling that if Marshal Li was not confident of settlement he would not have moved from his logical position in time of war—which is Canton.
While Marshal Li was on the high seas and even after he had arrived at Shanghai, Nanking still persisted in sending whole divisions up the Yangtze. Then came the announcement of the terms of settlement. Nanking gained considerably in political prestige by drastically curbing the hitherto ill-defined autonomy, not only of Hankow, but also of Canton; and also establishing the precedent of the Central Government being able to make itself obeyed in the interior. Where does Marshal Li come into the compromise? He was one of the commission appointed to sit in judgment on his colleagues of the Kwangsi faction. He could answer for them and commit them.
But he also held the faction's purse strings in that Canton has had to subsidise the Kwangsi armies at Hankow and the North-East for months. In exercising a check on Marshal Li's friends at Hankow, did Nanking extract from Marshal Li—for the sin of Hankow—an undertaking to divert contributions for money to Nanking and thereby further strengthen the hands of the National Government? If so, the day of relieving the burden of Canton's taxpayers has not yet come.

Marshal Foch

When a man has occupied a very prominent position for many years and has attained an age coming close to four score—Marshal Foch is 78—it may very well be that any illness that he suffers from is rightly regarded as being one that causes "deep concern." Field-Marshal Foch—(to give France's most distinguished soldier his British designation, to which he has been entitled since 1919)—appears to continue to be very seriously ill and, judging by the fact that he is still in the hands of no fewer than nine doctors, it is evident that his illness is regarded very gravely. It is 55 years since Foch began what ultimately proved to be a very distinguished military career. He was a lieutenant in 1875, Captain in 1878, Lt.-Colonel in 1898, and Colonel in 1903. In 1911 Foch was a General commanding the 13th Division of Infantry. It was, of course, during the World War that he became so well-known, as from the outset of the great struggle it was recognised that he was a soldier of preeminent ability. By the unanimous approval of the Allies, who recognised that the step was essential in the best interests of all and for the sake of sound cooperation and co-ordination, Foch was appointed Generalissimo of the Allied Armies—easily the greatest military post of modern times, placing under his immediate control armies, for numerical strength and efficiency, such as Napoleon, Wellington, or any other military leader never had.

This step was not taken until 1918, the year of the Armistice, but it was sufficiently under trial to enable one to say that it was a complete success and that Foch was generally recognised as the right man in the right place.

The Prime Minister foresees
"one of those great revivals of religion which repeatedly through the centuries have startled the world and stimulated mankind."
His faith in such a recurrence is certainly shared by many who,
since the War began and ended,
have felt and sensed in the world
moving round them the stealthy footsteps of such an approach.
Religion and Science stand
no longer armed in opposite camps.—London "Morning Post."

For snatching a handbag from Mrs. Murphy of No. 538, Nathanroad, Kowloon, a Chinese was yesterday sentenced by Mr. T. S.
Whyte-Smith to six months' hard labour and 15 strokes of the birch. The offence occurred at 8.20 p.m. on Saturday whilst Mrs.
Murphy was pushing a pram in the vicinity of the military married quarters at President Appartments. Private Martin chased the thief on a bicycle and captured him in Waterloo-road. The purse was recovered by two Indian constables who saw the accused discard it just before he was captured.

Stated to be "somewhat silly"
a Chinese was yesterday charged at the Kowloon Magistracy, with stealing letters from a private letter box. The offence was admitted. Remarking that the accused had been given a chance
once before for a similar offence, his Worship (Mr. S. Whyte-Smith) said that the man could not expect to be always excused on account of his mental condition. Sentence of two months' hard labour was passed.

The Government has decided to drop the Stamp Ordinance (Amendment) Bill following representations by the Chamber of Commerce and the petition submitted principally on behalf of the Stock Exchange and Share-brokers' Association. This does not mean, however, that matters are to remain where they are at present, as the Government intends to amend the present system of collection of Estate duty and Stamp duty.

At the Kowloon Magistracy, yesterday, a Chinese was charged with the unlawful possession of an air rifle which he claimed had been in his possession for the past ten years, and he did not know that it was unlawful to have such a weapon in his house. Because the rifle was not in a serviceable condition the Police withdrew the charge and defendant was released.
The rifle was confiscated.

The weekly return of notifiable diseases (excepting small-pox)
for the week ended March 16 shows one case of diphtheria (Chinese—fatal), two cases of enteric fever, one case of cerebrospinal fever (Chinese—fatal),
one death from puerperal fever,
and two deaths from influenza.
Yesterday, one case of diphtheria and one case of enteric fever were reported.

The remains of Stephen Kish,
2nd class fireman of the U.S.S.
"Memphis," who was killed in the King Edward Hotel fire, have been embalmed and put aboard
the U.S. transport "Chaumont" for transportation to the United States. A funeral service, with full naval honours, was held aboard.

The forthcoming marriage is announced in Hong Kong of Mr.
C. E. Pinel, surveyor and assessor of Shanghai, to Miss D. R.
Quincy, who is coming here on the s.s. "Hector."

CORRESPONDENCE

STOP, LOOK, AND LISTEN!

(To the Editor of the "China Mail.")

Sir,—Will you permit me, as an outsider, to express surprise that Mr. Adler once again uses such expressions as "misrepresentation" and "clamorous opposition" and
"aggressive and misleading opposition" to Christian Science as founded by Mrs. Eddy. In another issue he also speaks of an "attack upon Christian Science" which has been renewed in your columns.

It has seemed to outsiders that Mr. Adler would have learned his lesson inasmuch as he has not proved his case in any particular in the past and on the contrary has found that his own Directors have not supported his statements. The phrases quoted above might well apply to letters from these so-called "Committees in Publication," so many of which are unsupported by facts.

A friend recently sent me a copy of the "Christian Science WATCHMAN" in which there is the following short editorial entitled "Listening and Hearing" which it might do many Christian Scientists of Mr. Adler's organisation a jolly lot of good to read:

"In her well-known poem,
"Feed My Sheep," Mrs. Eddy includes these lines, 'I will listen for Thy voice, lest my footsteps stray.' To hear the voice of Truth requires an ability to listen. The hearing of the ear is a symbol of spiritual receptivity. In human experience good hearing is linked with the capacity to listen with earnest desire to learn. Spiritual hunger is the negative receptivity that divine Love always balances with the positive understanding of Principle which becomes expressed practically to meet the human need.
Without this spiritual hunger
there can be no growth in understanding. One who with humility and earnest longing embodies in daily life the declaration so beautifully expressed in Mrs. Eddy's words, 'I will listen for Thy voice,' should never become a victim of deafness."

Yours, etc.,

AMBULANCE WORK

TRIBUTES TO AN INDIAN OFFICER

Mr. M. A. Khan was the guest of honour at a tea party given at Lane, Crawford's Restaurant
yesterday afternoon by the members of the Indian Division of the St. John Ambulance Brigade, of which he is an officer, on the occasion of his going on leave.
Among those present were
Drs. H. el Arculli and D. K.
Samy, Messrs. A. el Arculli, Bishen Singh, A. H. Rumjahn, and almost every member of the Division.

Mr. A. el Arculli, the Superintendent of the Division, dwelt on the services rendered to the Brigade, and the Indian Division in particular, by Mr. Khan.

Mr. Khan thanked Mr. el Arculli for what he had said about him. What little he had done for the Division, he did to the best of his ability and he was glad that his services were appreciated.

Dr. H. el Arculli, who recently joined the Brigade as Divisional Surgeon, expressed a hope that the Division would be as successful under his tuition as it had been under Dr. Samy.

Mr. Bishen Singh, Dr. Samy and Mr. A. H. Rumjahn also spoke in eulogy of Mr. Khan.

Passengers leaving to-day on the "President McKinley" are Mrs. M. L. Bristol, wife of Admiral Bristol, Commander of the U.S. Asiatic Fleet, travelling to Shanghai; H. E. Dainrong Baedyagun, a prominent Government Official in Siam, travelling to Europe via the United States;
H. E. Prakrit-Kolasastira, Siamese Government official, touring the United States and Europe; Mr.
and Mrs. A. H. Page, missionaries (American Baptist Foreign Mission) returning to the United States on furlough; Mr. and Mrs.
J. Fister, travelling to Shanghai;
Mr. Charlie Toy, Chinese theatrical and restaurant owner in Milwaukee, returning to the United States after a visit to the Orient.

Mr. M. K. Lo, Chairman of the Directors of the Tung Wah Hospital, has sent a letter to Mr. W.
Harmston, the proprietor of Harmston's Circus, thanking him for the benefit performance on Saturday, which resulted in $481 being added to the Hospital's funds. The letter points out that the performance was a spontaneous gesture on the part of the proprietor.

P'RAPS—

P'RAPS NOT!

Neighbour: "What I says is there are ladies and ladies—an'
you ain't neither!"

Cecil: "I love you better than my life."
Cecilia: "Well, considering the life you lead, that's no surprise."

The little son of a minister had been very naughty, and, as a punishment, was not allowed to eat with the rest of the family.
A small table was set aside for him. On being given his food at this table for the first time the little chap said very solemnly:
"Lord, I thank Thee; Thou hast spread a table before me in the presence of mine enemies."

A well-known county cricketer always went to the wicket with a great deal of fuss and swank, and kept the field waiting while he patted several imaginary blades of grass down and made an elaborate block. One day he even spent more time than was usual over this block, till suddenly an indignant voice called out:
"What are you doing, guv'nor?
Diggin' for worms to feed yew
ducks?"

The young man was beginning to make a name for himself as a public entertainer, and had charmed one or two smoking concerts, and also recited at P.S.A.s.
With a view to improving his elocution he agreed to give an address on wireless to the occupants of the county asylum. Half way through it, one of the patients rose and called to the governor, who had taken the chair at the lecture. "Are we obliged to listen to this infernal drivel, sir?" "Take no notice of him,"
said the governor to the young lecturer, "he has just got one of his lucid intervals."

HOTEL FIRE

FURTHER EVIDENCE AT INQUEST

LIFT BOY'S EXPERIENCE

Yesterday afternoon the King Edward Hotel fire inquiry touching the death of one of the victims, Mr. William Woods, of Wellington, New Zealand, and intended to embrace the entire history of the disaster, was resumed at the Central Magistracy by Mr. E. W. Hamilton and a Coroner's jury.

Mr. Leo d'Almada e Castro, jun., is watching the proceedings in the interest of the proprietors of the King Edward Hotel; Mr. Hin-shing Lo is for Mr. J. H. Witzchell, licensee of the hotel; Mr. H. C. Lee for the China Land Investment Co., Ltd., owners of the King Edward Hotel building; and Mr. A. E. Hall for the Chinese manager and assistant manager of the King Edward Hotel.

Dates Vary

The first witness called yesterday was Mr. A. E. Wright, Assistant Director of Public Works, who produced plans which were originally submitted for the construction of the building, in 1902. Apparently, whilst the building was in the course of construction, further plans were submitted, floor by floor. Mr. Wright pointed out as curious the fact that the dates on the plans varied, and that seemed to support his opinion given above.

The plan for the basement was dated March, 1902, the ground, first, second and third floor plans were dated on various dates in 1903, whilst the fourth floor plan was dated April, 1904. There was no separate plan for the fifth floor, and witness could not say whether the building was finished before the plan was completed.

The original plan was made by Messrs. Leigh and Orange and was passed by the Director of Public Works, but the plans of the different floors were simply submitted for the information of the D.P.W., but apparently were not definitely approved. The law, it was pointed out, was satisfied by the passing of the original plan. It did not follow that because there was no plan for the fifth floor, that the building was illegal.

Based on the original plan of Messrs. Leigh and Orange, witness had prepared a plan which showed the building as it existed immediately before the fire. Portions since burnt away, together with portions which must be removed owing to the damage, were indicated. This plan was put in amongst the exhibits.

Continuing, Mr. Wright said that as regards the Savoy Hotel he understood the owners were causing plans to be prepared, but as to the King Edward, the Hotel proprietors had, so far, done nothing. The Public Works Department had been removing the debris from the interior and had done a certain amount of shoring work, and witness was satisfied that there was no danger now to the public.

Wooden Floors.

Replying to the Coroner, witness said that unless the walls of the Savoy Hotel were largely rebuilt the building did not become new. He could not prevent the wooden floors being left or re-instated, but he could prevent the proprietor from putting in lathe and plaster partitions.

The Coroner: What steps would you take if concrete floors are not put in?

Witness: If the police would assist me, I can ask them to refuse a licence for a hotel if concrete floors were not put in. That would apply to the building of the King Edward. By the amendment of the Building Ordinance of 1927, every building destined for a hotel or public building, is an exceptional building and I can insist on any material considered desirable.

His Worship here pointed out that the building, was still in the charge of the police and as soon as the inquiry was over he would release the premises. In answer to Mr. Lee, the Coroner said he did not mind if the owners entered the premises for the purpose of carrying out any preliminary work. An insurance again, who was in court, was also told he could enter the building at his own risk.

The Hon. Mr. T. H. King, C.S.P., then informed the Court that the search of the premises and the clearing of the debris on the site, had been completed. The whole thing had been turned over and there was no trace of any human remains or evidence of anyone else having met their death through the fire other than those mentioned.

Owner's Evidence

Mr. Cheung Fu-kwong, one of the owners of the business of the King Edward Hotel, was then called. He said that the China Land Investment Company owned the building. Witness had a room in the Hotel at the time of the fire. He had just taken the room when the fire broke out.

Mr. Cheung then proceeded to explain that he had a room on the third floor (No. 310) assigned in the hotel for the use of his friends and visitors, and he himself sometimes slept in that room. Just before 3 o'clock on the morning of March 11, he knocked on the front door of the hotel and Wong Iu let him in. Witness noticed that Wong Iu bolted the door on the inside after him. The two then proceeded to the lift.

Questioned by the Coroner, Mr. Cheung said he did not notice any fire in the lobby to the right of the lift. He went up the lift with Wong Iu to the third floor, and neither he nor Wong Iu were smoking, either in the lift or in the lobby below.

Wong Iu awakened up To Chat (a room-boy), who used a small room to the left of the lift on the third floor. To Chat unlocked the door of room No. 308 and witness used that room on learning that the people who were in room 310 had gone to sleep.

The Alarm Raised

Witness had barely hung up his hat and washed his face after entering room No. 308, when he heard To Chat shout to Wong Iu, "It is too smoky." Witness rushed out of his room and noticed large columns of smoke coming up from the staircase, but saw no flames. He heard cries from the second floor and he then blew his police whistle. It was at this moment that he saw many people running past the flight of stone steps at the back of the premises. Witness, still blowing his police whistle, ran for the main stairway, but when he got there he found it impossible to get down owing to the smoke.

Then he made his way to the stone steps, by going through the lavatory of the building. He wanted to run down, but he saw a number of people running up and joined them, eventually getting to the roof, where he crossed by means of a bridge to the top of Alexandra Building, from whence he reached the street by climbing down the fire escape of that building.

In reply to the Coroner, witness said that from the time he entered the building to the time he saw the smoke, only ten minutes could have elapsed. Asked why he ran up the stone steps instead of running down, witness said that it was because everybody was running up.

When it was a fact that the door at the bottom of the fire escape was locked, witness at first agreed and explained that the door of the store room, where a stock of wine was kept, was usually locked at 1 o'clock at night. Witness later stated that he did not know whether at the time of the fire the door at the foot of the escape was actually locked.

An Opportune Return

Mr. Ling Wong, a graduate of the Chicago University, who occupied Room No. 204, on the second floor of the Hotel, was the next witness. He said that he discovered the outbreak on his return to the Hotel on the morning in question. Being kept out late, he did not return to the Hotel until about 3 o'clock. He found the main door locked: there was no response when he rang the bell. Presently he detected a glow. It shone through the window, and on peeping in, he found it came from a fire which had broken out in the main door. People began to collect in the street. Their number gradually increased as he shouted "fire," and they took up the warning with police whistles.

Witness searched for a policeman, found two Indian constables who were blowing their whistles. He told them that that would serve very little purpose and suggested that it would be better if they went to fetch the Fire Brigade. They did not seem to understand, and kept blowing their whistles.

The crowd by this time was becoming bigger and bigger. A few minutes later the fire engines arrived.

By the Coroner: Six or seven minutes must have elapsed between the time that he noticed the outbreak and the time when the firemen arrived. It was very quiet when he reached the Hotel, no alarm having been raised.

At the conclusion of his statement, witness obtained the Coroner's permission to disclose two points which he had had in his mind. He said that his first point was that on the previous night, when he got back to the Hotel at 2 a.m., there was a man to open the door for him when he rang the bell. That same man after admitting him, took him up in the lift to his own floor.

Witness' second point was that he wished to say that only a few minutes after he saw the flames on the ground floor, he saw a similar glow in the top section of the building, that was to say in the third and fourth floors. This was before the arrival of the Fire Brigade.

Lift Boy's Evidence

Then Wong Iu, a lift-boy, was called. He said he had been employed at the Hotel for ten years, as were also most of the other servants of the Hotel. He could not recollect having seen anyone enter the Hotel before three o'clock that morning. Mr. Cheung came in after that hour, and he accompanied Mr. Cheung up the lift to the third floor. Before he went up he bolted the door behind them. On reaching the landing of the floor where Mr. Cheung's room, No. 308 was, he roused To Chat, a room-boy, in order to get him to open the door of the room.

As witness waited while To Chat went about his business, he noticed smoke ascending the staircase, and drew To Chat's attention to it when the latter came out. Realising that no good purpose could be served by remaining there, witness took the lift down in order to investigate. As he got down to the bottom, he noticed a glow near the staircase, and presently saw flames shooting upwards, near where a number of rattan clothes baskets were stacked, behind a spring door. He rushed through the lounge, opened the main door and sounded a police whistle.

By the Coroner: The rattan baskets which constituted the luggage of guests were left there temporarily, and he could not say more than that they were already there the night before the fire. As he took Mr. Cheung up in the lift, he did not notice anything unusual to have drawn his attention to the baskets.

Two Men Use Lift

When people in the street started to blow whistles also; witness rushed back into the building. The lift bell-rang after the alarm was given, and mindful of his duty, he took the lift up to the second floor where two Chinese were waiting. As he came down with them, the heat had begun to make itself felt. His hair was singed and he sustained burns on the arms, but he managed to carry on until they reached the bottom, safely.

By the Coroner: He did not know those two men except that they were Chinese.

The Hon. Mr. T. H. King, replying to the Coroner, said he thought he could find at least one of the men if his Worship desired his presence.

To Chat, in reply to further questions, said neither he nor Mr. Cheung were smoking.

By the jury: Wax and kerosene were used in polishing the staircase.

The Coroner explained that it had been suggested to him that perhaps so treated for a great length of time, say ten years, the woodwork of the staircase and floor might be put into a condition when it was particularly susceptible to fire.

Continuing his evidence, To Chat said there was a hydrant in the Hotel, placed near the staircase, but he had never been instructed in its use nor had he seen anyone else in the Hotel being so instructed. There were no printed directions as to what to do with it in case of fire, and during the time that he was in employment, no fire drill had been gone through that he knew of.

The Coroner expressed the opinion that there had never been any fire drill performed in any Hotel in the Colony, at least not until after the fire at the Hong Kong Hotel.

To Chat said it became impossible to operate the lift after the first inquiry.

The inquiry was adjourned until 2.15 p.m. on Wednesday.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY CONCERT AT THE CATHOLIC CLUB

On Sunday night a most enjoyable concert was given in the hall of St. Patrick's Catholic Club, Garden-road, to celebrate the Feast of St. Patrick. The items were well chosen and exceptionally well rendered, the whole concert being far above the ordinary amateur standard. The hall was filled to its utmost capacity, and remained so to the very end of a long programme. Those who had come together enjoyed themselves thoroughly, and showed genuine appreciation of the efforts of the artists.

The opening number was a piano-forte Duet by the Rev. Fr. Rignati and Prof. Guadagni, who gave a brilliant rendering of a Fantasia from "Faust." This was followed by a recitation, charmingly given by Miss E. Carroll, who, later, assisted by another talented little lady, Miss N. May, had to respond to an imperative encore for their Irish jig. Choral numbers were in the capable hands of the Aloha Serenaders who delighted the audience with their Hawaiian melodies; and the Choir of St. Joseph's College, who, under the capable direction of Fr. Rignati, gave "O Peaceful Night" (in four parts) by E. German, and "Angels That Around Us Hover" (in three parts) from Wallace's "Maritana." Then came the Wizard of the Navy, who made things appear and disappear in a way that caused one of the gentlemen present to remove his pipe out of harm's way.

CENTENARY
ANCIENT RITUAL

With adequate solemnity the Jassan Ceremony was duly observed in accordance with the prescribed rites of that ancient Parsee ritual, at the Parsee Cemetery at Macao on Sunday to commemorate its first centenary. The Parsee priest made a special journey from Hong Kong for the purpose and, in the presence of other members of the community, performed the religious ceremonies over the honoured dead to whom Hong Kong owes not a little for the energy, fortitude, courage, and initiative they displayed during the heydays of their activities.

Nearly two centuries have passed since the first Parsees established themselves in China for the purpose of trade. Hirsjee Jivanjee Readymoney and his companion, Rustom Dadabhoi Nadershaw, were among the pioneers who paved the way for future adventures. They first landed in Canton in the year 1756 when the community has, with the acumen and vigour we see in their countrymen of today, been prominently connected with commercial enterprises in the East. They distinguished themselves as eminent and respectable foreign merchants in Whampoa—the then busy port of Canton—and also in the old Portuguese settlement of Macao. Age-worn landmarks are still standing in both these places to show the centres from which these great traders directed their operations.

Parsee Ships

During the early part of the nineteenth century, the flourishing trade between India and China was carried on almost entirely by the Parsees in their own ships. The sailing ships "Royal Chertel" and "Hornby," owned by Hirsjee Jivanjee Readymoney, were among the first to blaze the trail for many others to come. During the early days of the British occupation of Hong Kong, the Parsees had several vessels plying on the Eastern run, and they also had the privilege of carrying the Royal Mail. The "Ariel," a merchant hulk, a photograph of which appeared in the July edition of the "Hong Kong and China Publicity Monthly," was the property of Parsee merchants and was used for the purpose of trade long before the British took Hong Kong.

History records that during the very first year of the occupation of Hong Kong by the British, at least four Parsee gentlemen, namely, Heejibhoi Rustomjee, Pesterjee, Cawasjee, Framjee Jashedjee, and D. Rustomjee, proved the courage of their convictions in the future prosperity and development of the Colony by taking over some of the forty sites offered by the Government.

A pirate rendezvous and a barren island, as Hong Kong then was, with nothing to show that it might, with the lapse of years, become a mighty port and a show-place for travellers from all over the civilised world—it required foresight of an unusual character to induce anyone to invest his savings and put behind it years of devotion necessary toward a problematic success.

A Jardine's Founder

One of the founders of the princely firm of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co., Ltd., was the famous millionaire Parsee merchant, Sir Jamshedjee Jeejeebhoy, who was a partner of the then Mr. Jardine.

The Hong Kong & Shanghai Banking Corporation had no fewer than four Parsee gentlemen on the Board of Directors after the formation of the Bank.

The first Star Ferry Service between Hong Kong and Kowloon, which later developed into the Star Ferry Co., Ltd., was commenced by Dorabji Nowroji, a Parsee, and the same gentleman was for many years responsible for supplies to His Majesty's Naval Forces, being the first foreign contractor.

The magnificent gifts of the late Sir Hormusjee Nowrojee Mody are well known. It was through him that the University of Hong Kong saw its beginning and the beautiful building of the Seamen's Institute also owes its existence to him.

Local charities have also benefited largely by the generosity of the Parsees. Large sums are still contributed yearly from their charitable funds to various deserving institutions in Hong Kong and China without distinction of race, caste, or creed.

Loyal and Peaceful Citizens

In India the Parsees have distinguished themselves as most loyal and peaceful citizens of His Majesty's subjects. They have won the affection, admiration, and confidence of the British Government as well as of all Indian races by their enterprising, genial, and generous nature.

The British Government has given many "Jagirs" or perpetual free-land to the Parsees in grateful appreciation of their meritorious services. Although a small community when compared with the huge population of India, the Parsees are held in great esteem, commercially and socially, for the active part they have played in its welfare, and India owes a deep debt of gratitude to this enterprising community for its present commercial and industrial prosperity.

They have, also, by their munificent charities, established many benevolent institutions in various parts of the great country for the general welfare of all races.—Contributed.

During the 48 hours ending at 9 a.m. yesterday (says the "N.C. Daily News" to hand) the Municipal police arrested 49 persons, of whom 19 were identified by the Fingerprint Department. Twenty-five larcenies were reported over the week-end.

Mr. V. A. Chilikin, editor of the "Echo," has resigned his post, the Shanghai "Zarya" reports.

"MISS ENGLAND"

SEGRAVE'S WONDER MOTOR BOAT

TO ATTACK SPEED RECORD

London, March 16.

Major Segrave has reached Miami, Florida, where in his motor-boat "Miss England," he will shortly attack the speed record of 92.8 miles an hour established last year by Mr. Gar Wood.

Segrave's craft is fitted with a 900 h.p. Napier Lion, 12-cylinder aeroplane engine, of the pattern with which he recently established the new land speed record in his Golden Arrow car.

The boat measures 26ft. and is 7ft. 6ins. in the beam, and the weight, exclusive of engines, is only 1,000 lbs.

Dual rudders are fitted, one forward, and one aft. These are connected, and are similarly operated by a single movement of the steering wheel, this system enabling the boat to be turned at high speeds much more quickly than is possible with an ordinary rudder.—British Wireless Service.

LAWN TENNIS

S. A. AND H. D. RUMJAHN v. E. C. AND E. F. FINCHER

This match, which was regarded by many as one of the bit-bits of the competition, was a big disappointment. In 48 minutes the Rumjahns won three sets. Some unfortunate late-comers who paid in the hope of seeing a ding-dong tussle beheld only the last two games of the final set. On last night's form either the Rumjahns are far ahead of any other pair in the tournament or the Finchers were woefully out of form. No player served consistently well, but in the other departments of the game the Rumjahns' cousins made few mistakes. The Kowloon pair made the mistake of being caught too often about the service line, betwixt and between as it were, so that their opponents had little difficulty in placing the ball on their blind spot. The experience should do the Fincher brothers a lot of good if they learn from it that in doubles, position rapidly taken is an all important factor. A very sporting game efficiently umpired.

The full results are: Open Doubles.—S. A. and H. D. Rumjahn beat E. C. and E. F. and E. F. Fincher 6-2, 6-0, 6-2.

Club Championship.—L. Goldman beat H. J. Armstrong 6-2, 6-4.

JAMES BRADDOCK BEATS SLATTERY

New York, March 11.

James Braddock won over Jimmy Slattery by a technical knock-out in the ninth round of a scheduled 10-round battle here to-night.

The first five rounds were tame and uninteresting, but beginning with the sixth, Slattery took the offensive and forced three furious rounds.

At the beginning of the ninth, with the fight even, Slattery walked into a trap. Braddock found an opening and lashed a barrage of furious rights and lefts to the head.

UNWANTED VALVE

CITY MEN'S LOST CHANCE

Dr. W. H. Eccles, in the course of a lecture at the Patent Office, London, on February 7, mentioned an important patent which, owing to the non-payment of the first renewal fee by the inventor, lapsed.

Mr. Herbert Williams, M.P., Parliamentary Secretary to the Board of Trade, presided, and it was explained that the present lecture, the first of a series of three on "Empire Wireless Communications," was part of a recruiting campaign on behalf of the Patent Office. Signal Section, which serves the 142nd (6th London) Infantry Brigade, and is attached to the 47th (2nd London) Divisional Signal (Territorial Army). The section holds week-end camps at Bisle, and carries out annual training in camp with its brigade.

The triode, de Forest's three electrode valve, said Dr. Eccles, was surely one of the most valuable gifts in the annals of the Patent Office. In 1912 the inventor endeavored to find business men in London to exploit the valve. De Forest could not pay the renewal fee, and the patent became the property of the British public. Since 1913 the sale of the valve, which seemed an essential of all modern long-distance wireless systems, both at the transmitting and receiving stations, must have run into millions.

One conclusion drawn by the lecturer was the rarity with which inventors foresaw the future of their novelties, or recognised which part was best worth patenting. Minor improvements often had the greatest value financially, but it was the early inventions which usually had the best chance of immortality and indispensability. (Cheers.)

The remaining lectures of the series will be "Atmospherics," by Professor Appleton, and "Problems in Valve Manufacture," by Dr. Maris.

Captain C. W. Hume, in moving a vote of thanks, said the chief obstacle to recruiting "like theirs" was matrimony; but wives would find that husbands who escaped from the domestic leash in good company, came back with an enhanced appreciation of their merits. (Laughter.)

S.O.S. TO CYCLIST

ROADSIDE MESSAGE

A broadcast message sent out on February 12 from ZLO to a motorcyclist, informing him that his father was dangerously ill in the South of France, was conveyed to the cyclist by another cyclist in South Devon within four hours.

At one o'clock the B.B.C. broadcast the following message: "Will Mr. Herbert Palliser, who is touring South-West England on a Douglas motor-cycle, number U.L.3292, and who is believed to have visited Shaftesbury and the Bristol district on Monday, communicate with his wife, as his father is dangerously ill in Montone and is asking for him."

At five o'clock another motorcyclist who had heard the message was within three miles of Teignmouth. He identified the motor-cycle, and told the rider, who was Mr. Palliser, what he had heard.

Mr. Palliser made a dash for Southampton to catch a boat going to France.

JOURNALISTIC ENTERPRISE

The following reference to the recent experiment in radio-photography made by "The Daily Telegraph" is taken from an article in the current issue of "The British Printer":

The year now closing has been marked by surprising developments in the transmission of pictures by telephony and telephony, and by the broadcasting of pictures by wireless, but the most wonderful of all achievements in this field of scientific progress has just been brought about by the enterprise of "The Daily Telegraph." Not only have pictures been transmitted to the liner "Olympic" in mid-ocean but they have been reproduced as process blocks and thus printed on board the ship, affording the passengers the unique experience of receiving a daily illustrated newspaper—the first that has ever been wholly produced, printed, and published at sea.

The achievement inaugurates a new era in trans-Atlantic radio photography, and it is a development almost revolutionary in the possibilities it opens up. "The Daily Telegraph" is to be congratulated on the success of this novel effort, which is indeed unique in the annals of journalistic enterprise.

KING'S COLLEGE

SOME WIRELESS DISCOVERIES RECALLED

Investigations carried out in the laboratories of King's College, London, have had an important practical bearing upon recent developments in wireless communication. The series of theoretical and experimental researches carried out by O. W. Richardson, from 1901 onwards, formulated and verified the laws underlying the evaporation of electricity from heated metallic filaments. These laws have formed the quantitative basis of the design of the filament of the modern hard thermionic valve; which has revolutionised the art of radio-communication and made wireless telephony and broadcasting possible. As Yarrow Research Professor of the Royal Society and Director of Research in the college Professor Richardson and his pupils are now pursuing both theoretical and experimental researches on a variety of subjects, including the production of soft X-rays, the extraction of the electrons from metallic surfaces under the action of intense electric fields and band spectroscopy.

In the last four years E. V. Appleton, the present occupant of the Wheatstone Chair, has carried out investigations on the scientific problems of radio-telegraphy for the Radio Research Board of the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research; and also, in collaboration with the engineers of the British Broadcasting Corporation. These investigations have included the determination of the

WIRELESS PICTURES

VIEWS OF A LONDON NEWSPAPER

London, Feb. 13.

Few people outside the circles concerned with the development of the processes have yet realised the progress which has been made and the possibilities of the near future in the transmission of pictures by wireless telephony. The news which "The Daily Telegraph" publishes this morning of the ambitious rebuilding scheme upon which the Post Office is engaged affords striking evidence that those who are in the best position to judge have the largest expectations of the coming increase in the use of radio-photography. A large centre of telephone work in Queen Victoria-street is to be pulled down and replaced by a costly new building, not for any urgent need at the moment, but to provide for large developments in the future. It is common knowledge that during the last five years there has been a great expansion of the telephone service, and we have certainly not reached the end of the period of growth. Trans-Atlantic telephony has only recently become practicable, but it is already so much used that provision must be made for a large increase in the number of conversations. The new building is to serve both these purposes, but more interesting and more significant is the part which it is to play in providing accommodation for the new services of picture transmission.

The Post Office advisers, we are told, anticipate an enormous increase in this kind of traffic. Photographs have for some time past been sent over the wires in Great Britain, and their transmission by this method is now a regular part of newspaper activities. It will certainly not become less important as time goes on. But much larger and more interesting possibilities of development exist in the trans-oceanic transmission of pictures. The practical possibility of this was proved for the first time a few weeks ago, when "The Daily Telegraph" sent news pictures daily to the "Olympic" throughout voyages to and from America. Night by night the operators on the "Olympic" received five pictures, day by day a sheet of pictures was delivered to the passengers with the usual news bulletins. It is not claimed that the process is perfect. Much remains to be done before wireless pictures will show that quality which is now required by a newspaper of the first class. The last word has by no means been said about speed of transmission and cost. But the most difficult pioneer works, has already been done. A few days ago readers of "The Daily Telegraph" (states that paper) saw an example of a cartoon transmitted from New York by the new beam wireless method. There was no question of its clearness. In the present stage of development adverse conditions may impair a picture or greatly prolong the time of transmission. But the ultimate practical perfection of radio-photography is no more to be doubted than its proved possibility.

CABLE & WIRELESS

"EMPIRE PRESS UNIONS" TRIUMPH

Presiding at the annual meeting of the "Empire Press Union" in London on February 12, Sir Robert Donald said that Empire communications through cable and wireless were a triumph for the union. They were the first subject discussed by the original "Empire Press Conference," and it had been the main mission of the union to advance that cause.

It is proposed to house in one Westminster building the Institutions of Mining and Metallurgy, Mining Engineers, Petroleum Technologists, and the Institute of Fuel and Iron and Steel.

wave-form and characteristics of atmospheres, the influence of the Heaviside layer on wireless propagation, and the study of the electrical field of thunderstorms. Further fundamental investigations are still being pursued on the action of the Heaviside layer in causing directional and signal fading and in connection with the propagation of short waves such as are used in the Beam system. Similarly investigations are being carried on in the Siemens electrical laboratory, under the direction of Professor Wilson, including such subjects as moving coil telephones and atmospheric corrosion of electrical conductors.

REPORT ON LONDON'S POLICE COMMISSION'S VIEWS

UNANIMOUS DECISION AS SEQUEL TO SAVIDGE CASE

"THIRD DEGREE"

London, Yesterday. The unanimous report of the Royal Commission on Police Powers and Procedure has been presented to the Home Secretary (Sir Wm. Joynson Hicks).

It is understood that it tends to reassure the public with regard to the integrity of the police generally and that a proper balance is kept between the rights of the individual and the demands of justice.

A reliable forecast of the recommendations indicates that little if any fresh legislation will be involved, although an alteration in the Police Standing Orders may be necessary.

The allegations of "third degree" methods were found to be exaggerated and new regulations are suggested for the examination of witnesses.

The value of women police is emphasised and an important recommendation is that senior officers are entitled to enter night clubs for inspection similarly as in the case of public houses.

The Commissioners apparently are generally satisfied with the manner in which crime investigation proceeded and by the adoption of their recommendations are of opinion that incidents like the Savidge case will henceforth be guarded against with reasonable certainty.—Reuter.

PRINCE GEORGE

WHY HE IS LEAVING THE NAVY TEMPORARILY

ON MEDICAL ADVICE

London, Yesterday. It is officially announced that the King, acting on the advice of medical authority, has approved that Prince George will now retire from active participation in the work of the Royal Navy.

His Majesty has decided, with the concurrence of the Prime Minister, that His Royal Highness will be attached to the Foreign Office in order to gain knowledge of the administration and work of a department of the state.—Reuter.

NEWARK CRASH

HIGHEST DEATH ROLL IN SINGLE AIR ACCIDENT

VICTIMS MAINLY SIGHTSEERS

New York, Yesterday. The Newark Meadows accident (in which 18 persons were killed and one seriously injured when a Colonial Airways plane crashed) has caused the highest death-roll ever known in a single air accident in the United States.

Most of the victims were sightseers, having their first flight. The pilot says that the machine only rose 100 feet, when the engine failed, and the plane crashed into a stationary goods train.

He and a companion seated beside him escaped because the cockpit was slightly higher than the passenger cabin. They were catapulted through the roof, over the train.—Reuter's American Service.

M. F. van Cauwelaert, Burgomaster of Antwerp, arrived in London recently and dined at the House of Commons.

DR. DYMOND DEAD

MEDICAL MISSIONARY IN CHAOTUNG

HAD A BRILLIANT CAREER

[From Our Own Correspondent.]

Yunnanfu, March 6.

The Missionary body and, in fact, the whole foreign community here, has sustained a terrible loss in the death of Dr. F. S. Dymond, son of the Rev. and Mrs. F. J. Dymond, of the United Methodist Mission.

Dr. Dymond was at Chaotung, to the north of the province, and had only been there two months when he was taken ill with tonsillitis and, after only two days' illness, he passed away.

The suddenness of his death came as a terrible shock to all. One sister, is here in the capital and another who was married to the Rev. Kenneth May last year, is at Tongchuan, on the road to Chaotung. Sympathy goes out to the bereaved in their sad loss.

His War Service

The late Dr. Dymond was born in Chaotung in Nov. 1896, and was educated at Hoe Grammar School, Plymouth.

He answered his country's call and joined the Army in 1915, serving in the Royal Army Medical Corps as a private and remained on active service until 1919.

On being demobilised, he entered Bristol University and studied medicine, qualifying as M.B., Ch.B. in 1926, and then took a six months' course in Tropical Medicine in London, which he completed in Sept., 1926. He then offered his services as a missionary and was sent to Wenchow, but, on being evacuated in 1927, he returned to England, where he did post-graduate work in Bristol General Hospital.

Engaged Recently

He returned to China in 1923 to take charge of the hospital and general medical work in the Chaotung district, under the United Methodist Mission. He left the capital with a party of missionaries last December and arrived early in January but, before leaving, he had become engaged to a lady missionary.

He was taken ill on Feb. 27 and died on March 1.

Dr. Dymond had a winning manner and endeared himself to all by his frankness and cheerfulness and his sympathy for those needing his help was boundless. No trouble was too great where he could help. The Mission has lost a very valuable worker and the foreign community has lost a real friend.

LAW FOR JUVENILES

Nanking, Yesterday.

Juvenile courts for the trial of minor delinquents will be established all over the country in the near future, according to an order by Dr. Wang Chung-hui, the President of the Judicial Yuan.

Regulations governing the organisation of these Juvenile Courts will be drafted and submitted to the State Council for approval.—Reuter.

FORGED TRAMWAY SCRIP

Chan Fook (alias Chan Shau-nam) was found guilty at the Criminal Sessions yesterday in the case concerning the forged scrip for 500 shares in Hong Kong Tramways, Ltd.

He was sentenced to three years' hard labour and seven years' hard labour, concurrently, that is, seven years in all.

Pun Pui (alias Pun Wai-nam), whose plea of guilty to two of four counts had been accepted, was also sentenced by the Puisne Judge (Mr. Justice Wood) to seven years' hard labour.

SILVER PLATE FOR H.M.S. LONDON

PRESENTATIONS

200 OFFICERS AND MEN ENTERTAINED

PLEASING CEREMONIES

London, Yesterday.

Over 200 officers and men of the new cruiser "London" were entertained to lunch by the City of London Corporation at the Guildhall.

The Lord Mayor, Sir Kynaston Studd, presented to the ship's company three pieces of silver plate. "We in the City of London are proud to have a man-of-war bearing our name," he said.

Sir Charles Wakefield made a further presentation of a silk white ensign as a gift from one of London's citizens.

Captain's Reply

Captain H. H. Rogers, M.V.O., O.B.E., returning thanks, said "This is the eighth washup to be named 'London.' She is a new ship and her name has to be made. London's traditions are loyalty, efficiency, fair dealing and hospitality, and those traditions we will carry with us always."

Early in the morning, the Premier (Mr. Stanley Baldwin) motored to Gravesend, where the cruiser lies and had breakfast with the officers of the ship.—British Wireless Service.

[Note: The "London" is another of the post-Washington Treaty 10,000 cruisers.]

KOWLOON ROBBERY

FOUR ARMED MEN RAID A RESTAURANT

VICTIMS GAGGED

The cashier of the Tsung Wong Tai restaurant, Nos. 150-152, Tam Kung-road, Kowloon City, reported an armed robbery to the Police last night.

He stated that at about 11.30 p.m., whilst he was sitting behind the counter talking to other folks and four customers, four other men entered the place.

They sat at a table and ordered a meal, which was duly served. On the stroke of midnight, one of the four newcomers rose from the table and approached the counter, where he produced a revolver and pointed it at the cashier.

Simultaneously his three companions also approached the counter, a second revolver being brandished by one of them.

The cashier, restaurant folks, and other customers decided not to offer any resistance and were driven to the rear of the premises where they were herded in the kitchen. Here the robbers gagged their victims and bound them hands and feet with wire.

After relieving their victims of all their personal cash and valuables, the robbers emptied the till of its contents and then decamped. It is estimated that the robbers haul totalled altogether $112.
